PROJECTS

- Stock App : link

Development of a robust online single-page web application, revolutionizing order and inventory management. Utilizing HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React, and Material.UI for the frontend, I crafted an intuitive user interface enhanced by React context and Redux Tool for efficient state management. On the backend, Node.js with Express, leveraging JavaScript to handle server-side operations, and integrated MongoDB for scalable data storage. JWT tokens were utilized to enhance security during user authentication processes. This comprehensive tech stack facilitated diverse functionalities, enabling seamless management of products, firms, brands, sales, and purchases. The collaboration between frontend and backend components resulted in a cohesive solution, emphasizing performance optimization for a highly responsive and reliable application.

- Blog App:link in this project, the goal was to construct a blog post management system using Node.js and Express for the backend, utilizing MongoDB as the database. On the frontend, driven by React, the Material-UI library was seamlessly integrated to ensure a visually engaging and user-friendly design. React-Router played a pivotal role in enabling smooth page transitions, while the strategic use of Formik and Yup libraries streamlined form structuring and validation processes. The integration of React-Toastify further enriched user interactions by providing informative notifications

- Movie App:link A movie app shows the trend movies using firebase and display trend movies on the dashboard. User able to search any movie and able to go detail of movies such as trailer, evierview and rate in the project, firebase library was used for authentication, Tailwind library for styling, react-router library for page transitions, formik and yup libraries for form structure and validation, and react-toastify library for notifications.
